Success stories

WHO USES VINOLOK

Freixenet Winery

“I wanted to preserve the qualities of my wine achieved in the production process, and to prevent the wine from developing in the bottle.”

JOSEP BUJÁN, THE WINERY'S OENOLOGIST

Freixenet

WHO USES VINOLOK

Žufánek Distillery

“There is nothing like glass when it comes to packaging of spirits.”

WHO USES VINOLOK

Weingut Tement

“After 10 years of using Vinolok we can say that it is a perfect closure for maturing our wines.”

MANFRED TEMENT, OWNER

Vinolok is a closure made from pure bohemian glass. It has absolutely no impact on aroma or flavour and it's completely leak proof. It creates an impression of a premium brand. These are some of the reasons why wine and spirit makers around the world use Vinolok, instead of natural cork or screw cap.

Today Preciosa, the parent company of Vinolok, continues the tradition, unique design and craftsmanship of generations of glass makers for prestigious clients and connoisseurs worldwide...

PRECIOSA HISTORY

Seven centuries of glass making

1376

Glass makers from Murano brought glass to northern Europe. The first glass furnace is lit up in Vysoké nad Jizerou in Bohemia.

1724

Chandeliers from Bohemia are admired/demanded by monarchs, such as Louis XV – King of France; Maria Theresa – Empress of Austria; and Elizabeth – Empress of Russia.

1760

Bohemian crystal jewelry and glass from the Jizera mountains is exported worldwide.

1918

Evolution of crystal manufacturing: cutting and polishing of stones, beads, and chandelier trimmings are added to the crystal repertoire.

1948

Seven main crystal glass factories from Czechoslovakia create a strategic partnership, forming the Preciosa group.

2011

Preciosa buys the Vinolok patents and intellectual property and becomes the only manufacturer of the Vinolok glass closure.
